LOOKING FOR HIM HERE

Searching for a Recreant Husband Who Has Come to Duluth.

Daughter of a Prominent Pittsburgher, She Is Left Alone.

Kirkland Wins a Suit Touching the Beaver Silver Mine.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 16.—Something over a week ago a woman, claiming to be Mrs. Joseph Moore, arrived in this city and bought a saloon at Seventh and Plum streets, a disreputable dive frequented by negroes, criminals and the lowest fallen women. It was evident to the most casual observers that she had known better days. Tuesday she sold the saloon, which cost her $10, for $12 and started for Duluth.

She says that five years ago in Pittsburg she married Joseph Moore. She was a widow, Mrs. Moore, and a prominent citizen, who had been twice elected mayor of the Smoky City. She was delicately raised and carefully educated. The man she left behind was an expert gambler and thought his friends opposed the union, they prospered. Considerable property was accumulated on the North side in Indianapolis.

Ten weeks ago he returned to her, he desired to go into business and asked her to sell some lots held jointly by her and him. She did so, but, with her usual frankness, she declared that he was a gambler, a drunkard, a womanizer, and that he had been a womanizer.

Mrs. Moore became so annoyed at the victim of foul play or accident, but soon learned he had deserted her.

She disposed of $2000 worth of property and started a business confident that if she could find him all would be well. She followed him to Albuquerque, Denver, Ogden and here. At this point she sold the saloon which she had sold this morning. She is going to Dubuque, where she has heard her recent husband is.

A man known only as J. Moore, a citizen of Duluth about five weeks ago, came to the city and after a few days secured employment with Iron & Car Company at West Duluth as an assistant foreman in one of the departments. He was called "Joe" by the co-workers and the workmen whom he brought with him.

He was a tall, thin, dark-skinned man, about 35 years of age, with a very low forehead, and was classed as a superior workman. He called for his time two days ago and left immediately afterward.

Mrs. Moore is staying in the East End of the city with acquaintances. She arrived this afternoon.

THE BEAVER.

Kirkland Wins a Suit in the Several State Courts of Minn.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—An injunction was asked for a peculiar purpose in the famous mining suit of F. S. Kirkland against R. G. Peters, has been denied by Judge Jenkins.

In October, 1888, Frank S. Kirkland, of Duluth, began action in the United States court against Richard G. Peters, millionaire lumberman and salt man of Manistee, Mich., to recover one-fourth of the net proceeds of the timber of the land in question.

He was granted a injunction, and the celebrated Beaver mine in the Thunder Bay district, 120 miles north of Duluth, in Canada, which he claimed to have discovered and patented, was awarded to the defendant on an agreement which he afterward refused to comply with.

The suit involved several hundred thousand dollars, and the possession of large tracts of land in the state of Michigan, Wisconsin and other places. In October, 1889, Mr. Peters came to this to be examined in the suit, and while he was serving with a jury in the circuit court of Milwaukee county by Mr. Kirkland, and for the purpose of obtaining an accounting of the Wisconsin land deal.

The state court that day, in its original suit was identical with those involved in the first suit, and that suit in the state court was brought only to harass and annoy the defendant, and the plaintiff was perpetually enjoined from prosecuting the second suit.

A hearing was had in October, and a temporary injunction was granted, but the decision just made, Judge Jenkins refused to make injunction permanent.

GOOD ENOUGH AS IT IS.

Opposition to the Amendment to the National Constitution is Perpetually Repeated.

Milwaukee, Jan. 16.—Advocates received here from different parts of the state indicate that the proposed amendment to the national constitution recognizing the deity in that instrument is meeting with considerable opposition, and that a formidable protest against the proposal will be sent from Wisconsin to the national capital. Even clergymen and laymen of all denominations are supporting the opposition, and the ground is that the proposal is an interference with religious belief, and that the constitution is good enough as it now stands.

AMERICAN SPORTS—ENGLISH BOOZE.

New YORK, Jan. 16.—The statement in a public paper yesterday that "Parson" Davies had sailed with Jackson is incorrect. Davies sailed a week ago and is due in this city tomorrow.

Jackson is a small party of the visiting Foreigners, and the reporter from London, Codner, says that after paying all expenses, Jackson has $20,000 to show for his English visit, while Davies is in the neighborhood of $50,000, a single benefit given him by the aristocratic patrons of the ring netting $12,500.

FOR A COMMON VOICE.

A well-intended effort is now on foot to provide for a generally recognized need of the various commercial bodies of the country for a central organization through which the local bodies may speak and find a hearing in matters affecting the production, trade and commerce of the country. The committee on extension and representation of the national board of trade has been occupied for some time in considering methods for increasing the membership and influence of the board and bringing local organizations into direct connection with it. Its inquiries show that there are now 526 commercial organizations with a membership of 91,262 members reported from forty-one states and territories. It finds that the desire for some appropriate and effective representation of the views and needs of all is expressed by all with whom it has communicated.

Of some of the chief uses and advantages of such a medium for consultation, concert of action, and effective influence upon public opinion and legislation the committee says: "The country is every where raided in the interest of speculation and unsubstantial scheming to the constant and increasing detriment of organized and permanent business operations, producing uncertainty and disaster, discontent and demoralization. The committee might instance some of the great and perplexing questions of the day, in the matter of 'trusts,' 'pools,' 'combinations,' etc., with which legislation is yet does not know how to deal—of adulteration and misrepresentation concerning which we have scarcely been able to legislate or shipping and banks and of bankruptcy and unification of laws, of socialistic demands, of control, of coinage of election laws etc.; all of importance and are destined to force themselves upon the republic at an early date. These can not be wisely determined without discussion and concerted action, and in view and varied a territory, and so mixed a population, the best conclusions cannot be reached except through the medium of local expression in general association.

This is unquestionably true, but an adequate and satisfactory method of insuring co-operation and the effective voicing of varying local interests remains to be designed. No definite plan for carrying out these ends has as yet been formulated, but the executive council of the National Board will meet at Washington on the 6th of next month and Mr. J. A. Prior, of Scranton, Pa., chairman of the committee on extension, would be glad to communicate, before that date, with any local boards, and obtain an expression of their views and such suggestions as they may have to offer. The matter is one which our Chamber of Commerce may fully consider.

In the death of Col. Dudley, the vice-president and general manager of the St. Paul & Duluth road, the road sustains a loss which will be deeply felt and the railway service of the country loses one of its best trained and ablest men. The devotion and worth of the services of such a man are not adequately measured when they can no longer commanded. To his friends in all parts of the country and especially on the line of the road where his familiar presence will be sadly missed, the news will be a painful shock, for although so dangerously ill, there was a clinging hope of his recovery.

The proceedings of the public meeting yesterday at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, to consider the question of the new high school building, were reported in the Herald last evening. The objections to tinkering with the present old Washington school building with the view of adapting it by additions for the purpose of a high school were clearly and forcibly brought out by the architect who is designing the proposed new building. Duluth is not willing to be behind any city in its size in the matter of the intelligent liberality of its expenditures for public schools, and the case in question is one which obviously demands a thorough and adequate provision and not a patchwork makeshift. Let us have a building worthy of Duluth and fully up to the demands of the present enlightened day in point of accommodation, fitness and sanitary arrangements.

Advance sheets of the trade and navigation returns of Canada for 1889 furnish fresh evidence, for those who are studying the trade relations between Canada and the United States, of the great extent to which the Dominion is dependent upon the United States for the sale of her natural products. That the United States is Canada's natural market cannot be disputed in fact of the facts now furnished, notwithstanding the customs barrier which Canada has erected at the boundary line. The aggregate trade between Canada and the United States amounted to $94,000,000, or forty-six per cent of the total trade of the Dominion. Exports to Great Britain amounted to $83,000,000 and to the United States to $43,000,000. Imports from Great Britain amounted to $42,300,000, and from the United States to $30,500,000. As compared with 1878, trade with the United States has increased over $30,000,000, while with Great Britain it remains about the same. As compared with 1888, exports to the United States increased about $10,000,000, while exports to Great Britain decreased about $2,000,000. Imports from the United States increased $20,000,000, and from Great Britain $1,000,000. The balance of trade against Canada was $32,000,000. The average rate of duty collected on British goods imported into Canada was 22 per cent, while the average duty levied upon imports from the United States was only 10 per cent. This is a conclusive showing of our advantage in competition and we trust that no ill-judged action on the Dominion's part or ours will shake it.

SEEN AND HEARD.

The citizens' meeting to discuss school affairs yesterday afternoon was a thoroughly interesting and instructive assembly of men who were there congregated. Opinions were given with a decision and promptitude which showed the character of the men, their realization of the importance of the question, their thoroughness in discussing it, and their coming together and the necessity for immediate and intelligent action. There was no hesitation, though every question brought up was discussed in all its bearings upon which the future was accepted. Each man spoke with one voice, and this being the case, there was no room for any personalities. The spirit which has built up Duluth to its present magnificent proportions, and the same intense public and energy will be the result of the new Northwest. This is a matter of paramount importance to the country and the world, and let the South end be that one.

WINONA REPUBLICAN: We are in south-central Minnesota and are dependent upon the influence of Lake Superior that to the west and north, for we have the Mississippi and our connection with Lake Michigan are close. Winona is the center of commerce in this entire Northwest and are being so influenced and rejudged by the growth of Lake Superior that unbroken communication with the world will soon be established to Southern Minnesota as well as to Michigan. It is therefore to Winona to improve the earliest opportunity of making such railway connection with Duluth as will insure the equality of this city. There is no occasion for scorning this suggestion as chimerical. The way is already open to a northward and westward. The Chippewa forest, and it requires great energy to place Winona in immediate contact with the projected movement, the consumption of which is as certain as the rising of tomorrow's sun.

The Markets Are All Dull for Grain and Stocks Today.

Gossip of the Boards; Daily Movement; Prices on Stock.

The opening was dull but steady. There was little done all day. Other American markets were somewhat stronger on the cold weather probably, and the good exports from New York. There was little business at any point, however. Cables were quiet and easy. The close was quiet and steady.

Chicago Grain Gossip.

The following dispatches are over the private wires of W. W. Bill, successor to Prentiss Lewis:

Without a gratifying increase in the volume of trade is noted today, though most of it was for local account. The feature was the large concentration of buyers, and the market is filled with the usual new, which was steady but bullish in character, should have given a wide range, but the rut into which the market got soon, is so narrow, and it seems impossible for prices to break away. Cash 2 red winter commanded a premium over January, and the price of cash wheat at most other points in the country than the market, the latter article is good. Cleanings at the seaboard were fair, while 100,000 bushels of a special grade were reported taken for export at Minneapolis with inquiries for as much more. Some higher prices should be the result.

Stock Gossip.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—The grain dealers and Union Pacific were having a good time on Walker's decision declaring the alliance a violation of the Interstate Railways association agreement. After breaking Union's alliance, the grain dealers turned their efforts towards the grain dealers, generally with the result that prices were marked down nearly a point all around. Money was easy and in spite of the year's bad crop the grain dealers are not holding back. The government took another block of bonds making the total for the past three days nearly $3,000,000. The market is now heavily overbought.

The Mills.

Northwestern Millers tomorrow will say.

The output of flour was again increased last week, being 143,710 bbls, against 135,780 bbls the week before, and $8,050 for flour, $8,050. The output of the mills will be smaller than the previous week.

Four mills are down, cutting off 5,000 bbls. One of these, representing 1,000 bbls, will be started tomorrow, but the production of the other three is likely to exceed 110,000 bbls. This cutfulness is directly traceable to the cutfulness of the flour market. The three mills that are still running are operating at 100% of capacity, while a considerable number of mills are not running. The volume of flour, and everybody is doing as well as some.

THE INCLINE PLANE

Some Description of the New Hillside Railway to be Built.

Ornamental but Very Strong, Waiting for the Council.

What Was Done at the Session of Street Railway Men.

At the meeting of the directors of the Street Railway company, held at its office in the Clark building, the principal matter under consideration was the incline railway on Seventh avenue west for the Highland Improvement company.

The structure will be immensely strong and constructed entirely of iron and steel. The framework of the structure will be set on iron posts. In addition to its substantiality the incline plane will be ornamented to a high degree, and a handsome piece of work in every respect. The grade will run from 15 to 24 feet to the 100. There will be two cars going continually up and down on each track. These cars will be drawn by a very strong wire cable from the power house on the top of the hill, on ninth street.

Louded wagons will also be taken up and down as required. The cost of the incline plane is $225,000. It will be begun as soon as the frost is out of the ground, provided the contract with the Improvement company is secured, and the city council and this company probably done. The Street Car company ask certain rights and privileges in the matter of franchises, which the Highland company is securing.

There is no doubt but that the matters will be amicably arranged in a few days.

In regard to improvements in the car service, the matter of an electrical system for the cars is being considered by the board. The conclusion arrived at was not to introduce any system at present, until that time when being experimented on at Minneapolis is thought to be safe. It is the opinion of the factory that is the system that will be used. In the meantime there will be an entirely new equipment of the present system. New cars, constructed to admit of electric apparatus being applied to them at any time when wanted, will be furnished. These are built with every conceivable convenience, and will be a vast improvement over the cars now doing duty. The new cars will be sixteen feet long. Horses will be used to pull and move. A large and largely increased addition and fitted up with all conveniences will be built early in the spring on the site to be selected. The tracks at both the Ninth street extension and the End will be double, so as to make the service first-class. All necessary extensions will be made, but where the road was not decided upon. The point will be settled in a few weeks when another meeting will be held at which Mr. Lowry will be present.

The benefit of having the experiments of electrical systems carried on at Minneapolis is very obvious. The policy of the company is to put the road in first class shape to keep all necessary improvements up to the highest notch. Duluth is not to be behind any city in the state.

Duluth Knights Visit Superior.

About sixty Duluth members of the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias went to Superior last night to attend memorial services in honor of the founder of the order, J. H. Rathbone. The memo- rial services were held at the home of Wright. It was an eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased founder. The services were perhaps doubly significant from the fact that J. H. Rathbone composed the ritual of the order at Eagle Harbor. At the conclusion of the services Allerton, division of Superior Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, presented the Knights with a fine portrait of her husband.

The American. For the investigation of the affairs of the derelict American Building & Loan association of Minneapolis expects to confer with the governor and the state auditor. Details of the local committee that will visit the association have apparently kept within the letter of the law in regard to its methods of doing business, there is a strong probability of the loss of the bulk of the amount paid in by the Duluth stockholders. This much accomplished, those who have foolishly been allured by the specious representations of a Minneapolis gotten along, associate will perhaps learn not to do so many more, but be content to deal with home associations that do business on the square.

The Temperance Talker. Rev. F. E. Sturges in behalf of Native Methodist pastors and Mr. Burleigh, Mr. Burleigh, a high record, when he came to Native, but the ball was not told. He far surpassed all expectations as a temperance speaker. It is the only man who has ever been known to speak on the subject of temperance in such a manner. It is no effort to follow him, and everybody means to do the same.

Very Funny. Under the circumstances, Ashland Press. In order to get even with West Superior or enhance its own position by the destruction of a foundry, a number of persons have had a cut through a point of land opposite the mouth of St. Louis river, which means entire destruction to Superior bay and the harbor of Superior. Petitions have been presented to the city council favoring the scheme. Superior has uttered a protest and will defeat it, if possible.

A fine gold medal costing $25 is to be given to the most graceful lady skater at the West End Parlor skating rink. Two West avenue and Superior street, next Saturday night. Remember this race, as it promises to be very exciting. Competent judges will decide the race. Everybody come and have a good time. Capt. S. G. Johnson, manager; T. M. Erickson, proprietor.

WEST END.
Sandbagged by Stone Wall. Butcher.
News of Skates.

Several are taking ice out of the bay, near the point where the Michigan street sewer empties. This is something which the birds and the seals look into. A muskrat's camp will take place at the Parlor rink this evening.

Mr. Swan Carlson and Miss Ida M. Johnson were married last night at Norwegian Hall. The wedding was a quiet affair.

A young Norwegian says that he was sandbagged by a Superior street butcher and his employee last Wednesday night.

The story of the young fellow is that he was eating a sandwich bought some sausage but complained that he had been overcharged. Whereupon hot words ensued and while he was passing out the door he hit on the head and knocked him, which caused him to fall. As soon as he got on his feet he started to run, with the butcher chasing. When he got in front of Charlie Pierce's hardware store he was again hit on the head.

A policeman who was watching the proceedings in front of the store from a distance came up and asked him what was the matter. He told him the story and the policeman who was in the shop saw the butcher just then entering; but before he could reach him the door was locked. Although the officer pointed his gun for some time the butcher would not appear.

The butcher is now a defendant in a larceny case and has acquired considerable notoriety.

It is rumored that Harry Armstrong will not be a candidate for re-election. There seems to be no doubt that he will run that he would be elected; but a number of people think he will not.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

The Markets Are All Dull for Grain and Stocks Today.

Gossip of the Boards; Daily Movement; Prices on Stock.

There was more life in the last few minutes of the market today than there has been for some time. It was due to the break in wheat at Chicago and the sympathetic decline here. Prices opened $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, improved slightly, then held steady until near 1 o'clock, when sellers became plentiful and there was a decline of $\frac{1}{2}$. The close was rather weak, but there was no other decline. While Chicago was dropping, Duluth declined only $\frac{1}{2}$. Sales were fairly good.

Cash wheat, not hard closed at 70c and all grades of No. 1 hard at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ above yesterday. January closed at 70 nominal, for 1 hard and 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ sellers for No. 1 northern. May No. 1 hard closed at 81 $\frac{1}{2}$ and closed at 84, after sales of a liberal quantity. Buyers were offering \$83 or more. May No. 1 northern closed at 81 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The Daily Movement.

Cars on track here: Wheat, corn, 4, oats, 2; flour, 1, 2; Wheat, 14,670 bu; corn, 8,975 bu; Shipments: Wheat, 3,435 bu; Inspection: Wheat, 2 cars of No. 1 hard, 11 cars of No. 1 northern, 1 car of No. 2 northern, 1 car of No. 10. Miners reported cars 225, against 220 yesterday. Minneapolis receipts wheat, 117,160 bu; Shipments: Wheat, 15,569 bu; flour, 23,924 bu.

Stocks.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—The market was again narrow but there was more disposition on the part of shorts to cover. The Vanderbilts stocks were all very firm, Cunard, Standard and Big Four, each showing sharp increase. The grain stocks although weak early in the day were in demand at the decline. Northwestern, Rock Island and Burlington will lead the market. The latter advanced before very long. Wisconsin stocks rallied on the announcement of its lease by the Northern Pacific, closing at an advance of about two points for the day. Most of the grain dealers, however, notably those of the St. Paul were remarkably good. A good bank statement is expected tomorrow and higher prices for the general list before there is much further decline.

The following dispatches are over the private wires of W. W. Bill, successor to Pressly and Lewis:

Wheat opened firm and higher on reports of good demand for carloads and at a contrary point which however was not confirmed.

Wheat was actively bid by parties who bought heavily yesterday, but they could not hold the price. The market is still weak but not as weak as yesterday.

The wheat market was a contest as to whether wheat should be put; large numbers of those principals having been sold at $12 for May, the market was put off by selling foot race between those who bought wheat yesterday and those who were liable to buy it when it came.

The market was not as weak yesterday as the only buyers.

Corn and provisions steady and very dull. The only feature in provisions was the purchase by Armour of a considerable amount of May lamb.

Funeral Services of Walker Blaine Held This Morning.

A Bill is Introduced Today for the Fair for St. Louis.

The Baltimore Shows Over a Thousand Extra Horse-power.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The funeral of Walker Blaine took place this morning. The day was bright and the air cool. A large number of friends of the Blaine family, members of the diplomatic corps and people in official life, attended the funeral.

A private funeral ceremony was held at the home of Secretary Blaine on Lathrop square at 10:30 a.m. The President and Mrs. Harrison, all the members of the cabinet, M. W. Halloway, several members of the diplomatic corps and some leading friends of the deceased attended these services, which were conducted by Rev. Dr. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant. At the conclusion of the private services, the remains were taken to the Church of the Covenant, followed by the family and friends in carriages.

Regular services were held at the church door. The funeral procession, the attendance at the church was very large, and many were unable to gain an entrance because of the crowd. Prominent in the procession were Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Vice-President and Mrs. L. L. Coolidge, cabinet and ladies, justices, members of the diplomatic corps, delegates to the Pan-American congress and the marine conference and senators and representatives.

The members of the Blaine household occupied seats directly in front of the pulpit on the right of the main aisle, the seats opposite were occupied by the President and cabinet and the pall-bearers in carriages.

A special meeting of the senate committee on Pacific railroads was held this morning to listen to an argument by Col. J. C. Frémont on the Pacific railroad funding bill but was postponed to some day next week.

The house met at 1 o'clock today. Mr. Grank of Missouri introduced a bill to extend the subsidy to the Pacific and creating a committee to carry it on. Referred to special committee. On motion of Mason of Illinois a resolution adopted permitting the special committee investigating the bullet box to sit during sessions of the house.

The actual horse power performance of the new cruiser Baltimore on her recent trial trip was today made known to the public by the navy department. The aggregate indicated horse power developed was 10,064. This gives the Cramp a power premium of $10,441.80, being for excess over 9000 stipulated for the contract at the rate of $100 per horse power.

Unusual Results of Trading Wars. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—A story of extraordinary marital experience is related in a suit for damages for $3000 filed in court here today by Augustus, a German immigrant, against James T. Twissman of New York for alienating the affections of his wife. Six years ago Richter married wife with Dr. A. J. Baumiller, giving $100 as a consideration. The wife, however, left him and creating a separation to carry it on. Referred to special committee. On motion of Mason of Illinois a resolution adopted permitting the special committee investigating the bullet box to sit during sessions of the house.

FEELING AGAINST A BULLY. The Portuguese are feeling strong in the government's favor.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A crowd of people assembled in the streets last night and shouted, "Viva Portugal," and "Down with England!" Similar scenes were enacted in many provincial towns. The Lisbon correspondent of The London Times says:

The Duke of Palmella, the captain of the King's Guard, recently returned from the navy department, was received by him while in the British service, but also dismissed all his English servants. The duke, however, still keeps his foreign servants in England, and the Portuguese government has been forced to take a stand in his favor.

It is proposed to publish a biography and voluminous sketches of each member of the society, which will form a valuable addition to the history of the forty-niners.

A "STRONG" LOCOMOTIVE. A Very Bad Accident at Cincinnati Last Evening.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—The list of the killed in the accident in Spring Grove cemetery last night was corrected with a single exception. What was then thought to be the unidentified body of a woman has since been found to be the body of Charles Kellar of Winter Park. Mr. Kellar and Mr. Wilson were the passengers who boarded the ill-fated train at Winter Place. Mr. Kellar was going to Cummingsville, barely a five-minute ride, to settle some business matter. Mr. Wilson was a 32-degree mason and was going to Cincinnati to attend a meeting of the Knights of Pythias in that city. Both men were probably killed by the collision. The engine of the rear train which ran into the accommodation car was a Strong engine, end of the new design which had been invented by Mr. Strong, the inventor, and which is expected to draw trains easily at from sixty to seventy miles an hour. A committee to establish a manufacturing engine in place of the factory engine is the only one of the kind in use on the road and it recently brought a heavy train from Hamilton, twenty-five miles away in thirty minutes.

The engineer of that engine, Coxley, did not see the light of the rear car of the accommodation before him until he then that he fully realized that it was the rear of the coming train. Still he applied the air brake and reversed his engine and remained with it until the crash occurred. He found a man who had been hit by a man who ran down from Winter Place. Coxley was leaning against a picket fence alongside the track, his face to the ground, with his hands clasped in a dazed condition and deadened voice in the matter. When he became entirely conscious, he said he found it impossible to check the tremendous speed of his train on the down grade, but had used every effort to do so before he left the engine.

The engineer, in explaining the cause of the accident, says the fact that the Glendale accommodation car twelve minutes behind time, had no bearing. The real cause was that the engine at Cincinnati, where train No. 31 had a short stop, when the accident occurred, did not show a signal that would tell the engineer the block was not clear. The accident occurred when the train from Chicago on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad ran into the Glendale accommodation at Cincinnati junction.

BACK BAY IN DANGER. A Wealthy Quarter of the Hub Likely to be Forsaken.

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The startling statement made tonight, and is apparently supported by facts, that the opulent Boston quarter of Boston known as the Back Bay is in imminent danger of being forsaken by its wealthy inhabitants.

The fact seems to be, in brief, that the new metropolitan water power, which is to be constructed four years ago, the ground water level will be lowered a foot, thus exposing for that distance the piles upon which many structures stand. In numerous instances, decay has set in, and already several buildings have been supplied with new foundations. It is predicted that when the true state of affairs becomes known there will be a hegira.

GOOD GRIP ON JUDGES.

Indignation that the English Peerage and the Crown in the United States are to be held responsible for the charge of libelling Earl Ruston and the Clevelander street scandal and his trial for two months imprisonment has aroused the greatest indignation among the working classes throughout the country. It is regarded as a violation that the aristocracy still a stickler for the peerage and as another exemplification of the fact that blue blood is a cloak behind which the members of the upper classes can shelter themselves from their misdeeds, no matter how vile these may be.

Arrangements have already been made for a number of meetings in different parts of the country to denounce the verdict in general and Justice Hawkins' summing up in particular.

In a dramatic climax, a committee of the English peerage and another committee of the working classes, consisting of the convicts editor, although it is noticeable that the same Tory journals that denounced the outcome of the Crown trial are exultant over the "vindication" that the notorious peer has secured through the medium of this disgraceful outcome of the trial.

THAT QUEER FAILURE.

A Good Deal of Wealth That Can't Be Accounted For.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Before Master in Chancery Sherman today, and under the direction of the United States circuit court an enquiry was conducted into the circumstances surrounding the recent failure of the Meado-Van Bokhoven company, extensive dealers in California in real estate, who occupied premises some months ago, with liabilities of $200,000.

Creditors to the extent of $165,000 who had been left unsecured initiated an investigation to find out what had become of the $35,000 in cash and of the $100,000 in bank notes.

These are no sensational stories but the sober convictions of many influential Frenchmen.

"I do not believe," said the Hon. Mr. LaFlamme, ex-minister of justice, "that annexation will become a serious political factor until Sir John dies, but just as he does, that will become the burning issue, and the mounting French-Canadian liberals are beginning to stir the agitation in motion."

THE FUNNIEST THING OUT. As the Twin cities begin to feel the force of the drift that is steadily carrying them to a back seat, it is comical to see their floundering efforts to bear up against the tide. One of the funniest displays of recent days was the two column exhibition of The Pioneer Press in its zeal to prove that nobody in the flour city used any coal to speak of and that 25,000 barrels of flour could be turned out daily with the consumption of 100 tons of coal at the most. But the Minneapolis Times, resolved not to be outdone in desperate devotion to a lost cause, now bows up with the funniest thing out. If any representative organ of the sinking head of the Father of Waters can beat this, we should like to see it try.

How is this for a slogan to rouse the Twins? "One more stroke for their former hope. Awake, arise, or be forever fallen! Hoop! Hoop!"

Minneapolis enterprise and energy are famous the world over, and the people there have learned to be surprised or amazed at the novelty of the proportions of any scheme, commercial or otherwise, which finds its origin in the flour city. The very latest thing in that city, however, is to take away the breath of the people who have been born and bred in the dry, bracing atmosphere of Minnesota, and who were lulled to infancy by the roar of the St. Anthony falls.

If reports are true, Minneapolis may become a port of entry in the near future, with direct water communication with the Asiatic coast.

The port which is said to be the most important in the world, and the north Pacific has carried from Duluth to the head of Lake Superior from Duluth to Minneapolis, a distance of about 150 miles. The chief end to be subserved in the construction of this great work is to overcome the difficulties which now oppose the increase of the large manufacturing interests here. Men of foresight and vision realize the fact that cheap transportation, giving Duluth an immense advantage over Minneapolis, in the way of securing great manufacturing plants, and the zenith of the city bids fair to outstrip the larger of the city's prosperous growth.

Coal and iron, the two great features of the city, are to be the chief factors in the growth of the city.

The principal tributaries are the St. Louis, the Mississippi, and the Minnesota, all of which find their way to the head of the lakes.

Arthur Miller, Minnie Madden's manager, Miss Tyre has recently purchased a large tract of land, including a good round sum in cash.

The land is a portion of a piece of 100 acres Miller bought when here during Miss Madden's last engagement at the Grand.

Said a gentleman deeply interested in the public schools: "Natural exercises in the public schools should be regarded as important as any branch of study. There is room for the rising generation to improve and better race physically than the present. No danger of their not being up, if not above the average mentally, for the methods of imparting knowledge and training the young are good. The employed twenty-five years ago but books and apparatus for the use of teachers are correspondingly better, especially in the case of the youth with the opportunity of education, the schools will come the east for it. I think the introduction of this feature into our public schools is most sensible. The girls should be taught to be good mothers, and the boys to be good fathers.

It is a good idea to have the girls talent for acting; therefore she has increased a portion of her earnings in a career at the head of the lakes.

A PRACTICABLE SUPPER.

None of the Stage Suppers for These, but a Real Live Feed.

Instructing the Amateurs and Striking for a Square.

How to Rehearse a Mob of Supers on the Theatrical Stage.

"We had walked back to town, Ned and myself," said an undertow Thespian, "and struck a chance to act in a company with some amateurs for a charity benefit. They wanted two professionals and we caught on. We lived along for a week before the performance on free lunches, nearly starved to death, because we couldn't get a cent from the charity folks till we had rendered service. In one of our scenes Ned and I were bad low-comedy roles—were to sneak into a house, and then be a stage supper and were to take advantage of the opportunity and eat everything in sight. An idea struck me. I told them to go up and eat in the way of a supper, then the audience would not notice it, and we would have nothing but plates and knives and forks and glassware on a table for supper wasn't art, and if they wanted the performance to be noticed they must go for detail, like Irving, and I let it go in.

"The women agreed to get up the proper kind of a supper and have everything in the slap-up fashion, and I let it go in.

"The best Ned and I could get for supper was a slim bit of crackers and cheese in a place where we had hung up the curtain. And, indeed, we hadn't had a supper since we had mighty near fasted. So when the play was over to the second act and we sneaked onto the scene we nearly collapsed. The good ghouls of the charity had seen out a special thumbs up to us, and a hungry actor just good to look at. There was hot fried chicken with cream gravy, nice roast beef, and the finest fried fish you ever saw. And the vegetables, just every kind of greens and onions and oysters, and lots of things we hadn't seen since we quit living at hotels.

"Ned and I were a couple of hungry trashers that day. It was our turn to be the stage supper, and we were to be the most intelligent crowd, providing the audience with the most delicious of any kind and they loved their intelligence. Theater-goers have a queer opinion about supers. They think that they are all dunces, and they laugh when you see them appear on the stage as a fool man. Yet if those very same supers were given the proper rehearsal their efforts would be appreciated by the loudest kind of applause.

"The will in a little iron box under the old cove's bed." [Suffarin' Cyrus, Judge we never can leave this good feed!]

"Wonder if we can find his room without bumping against anybody?" [Leave him a rehearsal and Forrest got mad. He shouted at the top of his voice: "Why can't you fellows do it the way I do?" "I don't know," said Ned. [The cue comes in my next speech!]

"So much the better. We'll get the cue out and we can make the young 'un come down handsomely for the will." [Gag it. Don't give the cue.]

"Right here we broke away from the cue, and Ned said:

"You remember when we was a visitin' in the Prince of Wales and what a spread we had?"

"That's right," said Ned. [The cue comes in my next speech!]

"Nothing of the sort," says I, helping myself to a lot of jelly and roast beef.

It was at Marlborough house, cause we was all the time in the same place, and I went to the prince scandalous!

"Well, whether it was Sandringham or Marlborough, it was a great spread.

"Except one," says I.

"Where?" says Ned.

"We were filling up mighty rapid, and were spoiling the looks of the table. We was all the time in the same place, and I was about a little to each word or two.

"When we dined with the Akhoud of Sway," says I. Ned nearly choked.

"Nothing of the sort," says I, helping myself to a lot of jelly and roast beef.

THE ENNUI IN SOCIETY.

Why Duluth Society is Not as Gay as it Might Otherwise Be.

People Are ill and Don't Feel Much Like Celebrating.

Musical Notes; Minor Events, West End Social Affairs.

If society is not dying the premonitory symptoms of an early demise are assuredly at fault. The holiday season, contrary to custom, was ushered in 'midst rather decorous silence, and ran its short course unaccompanied, except in rare instances, by the seductive concomitants of music or supper. Society shrugged its dimpled shoulders, and joyously proclaimed that within the next few weeks Vanity Fair would awaken, and that each week would be a success in itself. In consequence, but these bright promises show no immediate signs of fulfillment. The various but discreet chaperones are sighing over the dismal outlook; the younger elements of the community are greatly alarmed at the death of social expression, and with a single accord society musically voices the hope that an oasis will yet be found in the dreary desert of lethargy which is now relieved by more than a occasional afternoon reception or progressive euche.

Probably the trouble, if one wants to find an excuse, is in the general illiness. Said a lady who spent yesterday afternoon calling: "I never saw so many sick people." A hardly visited a house where there was not one sick, and just recovering from an attack of fever, chill or grip." It's utterly amazing. It's true people can't afford to play cards or lounge in the smoking-room and risk of storing when they're in the grip or wrestling to keep it off. So society has good cause for its dullness.

The lack of fashionable interest in winter sports in Duluth is undoubtedly cause for the decadence of society in home society. The seasons of gaiety in the city are few. Nature only covered the earth with a generous mantle of snow, people were more prone to gaily skate or slide or ride, but that is no more. Even the talk of a nice snow-cub is a pale echo that is noted, and heard no more of all. There is a skating club, but as yet it has done little in a social way. There is still some chance, however, for a snowshoe club. A few slight rues have taken place this week.

Events of a Week.

Several from Duluth are present to day in St. Paul, at a convention of the Eye and Ear League.

About twenty friends of Judge and Mrs. O. P. Stearns Wednesday organized a little surprise party and assembled at their residence to celebrate the judge's 59th birthday. Card playing, pastor of Tower, has been appointed dancing and refreshments were indulged in.

A very pleasant party was given Friday night by the Young Men's club at Ingalls hall in honor of Miss Lottie Jones, a well known young lady of Duluth. There was good music, a good dinner and a good time.

There will be no services at many other churches because of this lecture.

The meeting of the Ericson's risk last night was very successful. The costumes were elegant and the managers deserve credit for getting up such a program.

Tonight a masquerade will be held at the Twenty-first Avenue rink for which two tickets are given.

Mr. McGonagle has been absent some time.

Superintendent of schools Denfeld went down to St. Paul last night to attend the Educational association convention. The executive committee of which he is a member.

Mr. Horace V. Wieschell of Minneapolis, well known in Duluth on account of his connection with the geological survey, has arrived in town and has been present decided that to die was not gain, and the organization from now on takes a new lease of life.

A new musical organization will be formed shortly under the leadership of Frank Hearn, for the purpose of giving some of the light operas. The organization will include some of the best musical talent in the city.

A MAIDEN'S QUERY.

(Translated from the Swedish by Mary H. Wheeler.)

Lovest thou for beauty's sake?

Lovest the Sun? See in its wake

Golden light, splendor on the blue out-

Look thou for youth's sweet sake?

Lovest the stars? See in the cross take

Ever fresh, blooming. Mine will shortly

Leave for youth, for gold?

Lovest me not, ah, no?

Corai groves bold and roses and golden sands

Lovest thou for love's own sake?

O love thou me? Love have I that caught can shake,

It has been thine only, thine will shortly

Be mine.

An Extensive Swindle Perpetrated by an English Nobleman.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 20.—A pecuniary land swindle was unearthed here yesterday which apparently involved a government name as Charles made his appearance in White county about six months ago. He at once installed himself in the residence of the local minister, Rev. J. R. O'Conor, and last Saturday confided the statement that he was in reality an English nobleman traveling incognito, and that he was possessor of a fortune of $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 of which was invested in Birmingham.

The minister fell into the trap, and with his new found friend went to Little Rock where he introduced himself as an English nobleman of considerable fortune.

The regular meeting of Willis A. Gorham post occurs tomorrow evening. There will probably be some new members in attendance.

The second-class rate over all Duluth roads to Chicago is now $3, a cut of $1 under the old second-class rate. The first-class fare, $13, remains the same.

Mrs. Nettie M. Goodell has been appointed to a clerkship in the clerk of the court's office.

CITY BRIEFS.

TREMENDOUS BLOCKADES.

On the Northern and Central Pacific are Great Snow Banks.

Washington and Oregon Shut Off From the Outside World.

Travel to the Pacific Coast Practically Stopped Now.

Driver, Jan. 20.—The snow blockade in the West and Northwest is one of the most complete on record. Not only has travel become an impossibility on the Western divisions of the Central and Northern Pacific, but the telegraph companies are equal sufferers and every wire is down on both these roads. The only means of telegraphic communication with the outside world now is by the indirect route of the Southern Pacific, and the volume of business transacted is necessarily limited.

The Washington and Oregon are shut off from communication with the entire country, with the exception of one little zig-zag wire that still ticks feebly between Portland and Astoria, and even this wire goes down in these two Northwestern states will be further interrupted from New York than China, so far as telegraphic communication is concerned.

Telegraph lines are not running, and the snow blockade renders it impossible for any telegraph force to reach the business in the absence of Manager Hartman.

Mr. A. C. Clausen, chief grain inspector, is registered at The Spalding.

Mr. J. L. Washburne, the Mankato capitalist, is at The Spalding.

Judge R. S. Tyler, the grain commission merchant, returned this morning.

Chief Clerk Thomas will have charge of the Northern Pacific local freight business in the absence of Manager Hartman.

Mr. A. R. Ridgeley of the firm of Marvin & Ridgeley returned this morning from Philadelphia where he has been visiting his business interests.

Mr. George has been secured and given, for New Year's gift day in the old country. The more prosperous Chinamen here have given dinners to their less fortunate compatriots, and the less fortunate have given a little stomach can give them only a full stomach can give.

In China the day is observed with universal rejoicing. Chinamen here in the streets, bands of music play, and everyone has a jolly time. The only thing that approaches it in this country is the Fourth of July.

All the Chinamen in Duluth have exchanged visits today, and with cigarettes in mouth have sat by each other's fire-sides and swapped stories of times in the old country.

Every year in three of the Chinese New Year's three months, February having thirty days, and this is one of the lucky ones. The holiday that approximates to our Christmas comes on the 1st of December.

IN FRISCO.

How Our Western Chinamen Celebrate the Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The Chinese New year celebration began last night at dusk. At 3 o'clock this morning it had reached that stage of joyous riot when the Chinamen began to have fun.

Clark street south of Van Buren was crowded with happy Chinamen, and more happy Chinamen were bobbing in front of the pictures of the joys in the pleasant resorts where Chicagoans and men gather to smoke and drink.

At 4 a.m. all Chinamen were lighted and party signs hung in the windows, friendly parties of Chinamen were taking off cups of rice wine while upstairs Chinese were laying their plans for the pleasure of the twenty or thirty privileged Chinamen.

There was a constant stream of Chinamen entering San Moy's, the Chinese Sam Moy's, a well known chain of restaurants, when any customer entered he bowed to Sam Moy and said "Kung Hi." Sam Moy bowed to the customer and replied: "Kung Hi" which means "Good Year." Sam Moy's is a restaurant of the Chinamen's own organization, serving only to the Chinamen.

Captain James Boggs is again a happy father; this time it is a daughter, who arrived last week.

Mr. Bertram Marshall is up from Kentucky.

Mr. Walter Marshall left yesterday for a visit with southern Wisconsin friends.

Mr. A. F. Shawley went to St. Paul last night to be with a couple of days.

Mr. E. M. Miller, Jr., of Temple

Orange, has gone for a week's visit to his old home in Lincoln, Ill.

The two-year-old son of Michael Deering, jeweler, died Saturday and was interred at Forest Hill cemetery this afternoon.

Mr. Royal F. King of Minneapolis, formerly Miss Vrooman, a well-known Tchelidz soprano singer, is visiting relatives in the city for a short time.

Paul C. Lounsherry, a nephew of Col. Lounsherry, at one time in newspaper work here, and who was injured in a railroad wreck in Dakota, is visiting the city.

Miss Tracy Hartman and Miss Sue Stearns left yesterday for California for the benefit of their health. They were seen here at various places: Bird's nest soup, rice, chicken, roast, pig, roast duck, roast pig, rice, etc.

At 10 o'clock the Chinamen were getting up to the other Chinamen "Good luck and prosperity to you."

"And peace and happiness to you."

"May you eat the skin of a roasted pig."

"May wealth windows be unbroken."

"May your children be suspended."

Whenever one of the Chinamen expressed a particularly strong sentiment all the other Chinamen applauded by hammering their dishes with cups, and bowing up some more.

SEARCH FOR SALVATION

St. Paul's Search for Manufacturing of Nearly all Classes.

Some Opinions and Suggestions of Interest to Duluth.

The Fear of This City and Its Growth Voiced in Every Line.

The Herald presents below extracts from the reviews and opinions of several of St. Paul's leading citizens, on the subject of manufacturing in that city. They are condensed from the Pioneer Press of yesterday. It is evident that this sudden desire for manufacturing institutions is the growth of a year of Duluth, which has done so remarkably in this line the past year. There are many kernels of importance and interest to this city in the nut the Pioneer Press has cracked.

Governor William R. Merriam: There is too much tendency among the capitalists of St. Paul to invest their money in securities, also in land. I would be sorry to see that we have so many large buildings. We have them, and now is the time to turn capital toward building up the city in another way. We should not have the property of these management buildings going for tenants the city must be strengthened in its great point of weakness. We must have factories. The fact that the market is not developed means the only question of fuel or power, and labor to be considered. I am not a practical manufacturer and am therefore not competent to say what would result as well as anybody. The matter of the expense of fuel is what to be about the worst thing in our way. It is stated that the cost of $1,000,000 more for a factory and for manufacturing institutions that it does the Duluth manufacturer, and that we cannot compete with Duluth in such kinds of manufacturing as those in the coal and the iron business as iron smelting. However the theorist may settle this matter, certain it is that the St. Paul foundry institution which consumes quantities of coal is not a large market for heavy castings way down in Michigan and Ohio. This concern is paying one of the best per cent upon the capital invested in it of any other business.

H. H. Kelly of the wholesale grocery of P. H. Kelly & Co.: "I am satisfied that we have got to a point where we must have factories if we are to grow as a city, but I am not in possession of sufficient knowledge to judge of what character the factories should be. Our experience at St. Paul shows that the conservative and cautious about entering into business, and about knowing all about them and who conducts them. The success of such ventures would nearly all depend upon honest and economical management. Cheap fuel is absolutely necessary."

James H. Hill, president of the Manitoba railway: "The question is, can St. Paul have a great number of factories than are here now? But it would be detrimental to our interests to attempt or encourage the bringing here of some kinds of factories. We are at the time now where it is a matter of the utmost importance to attempt only such kinds of manufacturing as we can succeed in. It is hard to say how much turn the balance of importance among the kinds of factories that we have in estimating what kind of factories could succeed the question of fuel or power, labor and material must be satisfied, and as a great factor—such as iron smelting, we would be apt to succeed where certain kinds of skilled labor, and the raw material is proportionately as bulky as the raw material. It would generally be useless to attempt anything in which coal entered as a great factor—such as iron smelting, we would be apt to succeed where certain kinds of skilled labor, and the raw material is proportionately as bulky as the raw material. The hat has been passed around among them a number of times to raise funds to help some strangers to start a factory. He goes on to say that he offered nothing as against the capital, but an assertion that he was an experienced manufacturer. The capitalists never received any offer of a large sum of money, and learned when it was too late that the man who got his money was a mere adventurer. Now it seems to me that there is but one right way to handle this question of growing a manufacturing city. We should have an organization among the best business men with the object of promoting the manufacturing interests. Then it should be to concentrate and decide it should be to investigate and decide upon what kind of factories could be established here. There should be another committee to see that any important committee should get together with the purpose of getting ten per cent of the real estate.

Col. E. F. Drake: I believe that a binding twine and cord factory would be good in this city. This is the great industry of Xenia, Ohio. A large factory of this kind in St. Paul would make a good market here for the flat strand wire, the famous flat wire. This is the kind of wire we want for cordage. For binding twine of course, we should have to have manilla. Then, too, binding twine requires somewhat of a special knowledge. But with us we have the market for your product, and what market is it if the machinery does not cost money? It does not require an army of skilled labor, all that is necessary is to be a man of intelligence, and who knows how to operate the machinery to advantage. With a good business man as general manager of a factory properly equipped, the institution could not fail to become a success.

George L. Farwell: I believe hand made agricultural implements could be made to advantage here of such things as hoes, forks, pitchforks and garden tools. These articles are used in the Northwest. These things are worn out like clothing, and there is an opening for a factory that kind of the market is never glutted. A plant would easily from $15,000 to $20,000, and it would take from $30,000 to $75,000 for operating capital. This outlay would make an immense factory—one which could not fail of success. The man in command of the product would be west of us to the Pacific.

Among dry goods merchants there was one assertion that one of the greatest needs of St. Paul is a clothing factory. Said one of these merchants: "Every day or so there is some merchant of the West in our stores on his way to everything he wants, but ready-made clothing. He will have to go down to Chicago for that. Now Chicago has only one dry goods house, while St. Paul has three. But Chicago has fifty-two clothing houses, while St. Paul has but one. C. W. Hackett, factor of the following, would prove profitable. There is no reason I can find, why a tub and pail factory would not do well. For rolling pins, butter, ladies' shopping bows, stockings, socks, and all such things could not fail. A brush factory would prove wonderfully profitable. We could make wire goods to advantage. We should have a large number of men, including mechanics, tailors, etc. We could make willow goods. We could make wheelbarrows and handles.

THE BEST KNOWN.

Year 1890 to be one of the Most Prosperous in Industrial History.

Iron Trade Review: What of the future? We need no B. to predict that the first quarter of 1890 will be a period of prosperity to all branches of the iron trade. Will the market stand the strain until the end of the year? A change about every fifteen days is the only means of an active market here.

What is the situation in England today? High prices, equal to or higher than ours, and increasing production. Raw materials abroad are not only high in price, but the product for 1890 is contracted for which will make it rates to price the finished product at rates to price the iron.

Of course, this means no foreign interference with our markets and a correspondingly active demand at home.

What is the situation in England today? An independent market here.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Election of the Board, Peculiarity in Chicago Quotations.

Gossip of the Boards; Daily Movement; Prices on Stock.

The market today opened somewhat firm, first selling $\frac{1}{4}$ up, soon broken and broke $\frac{1}{2}$ on free selling. Trading was good, being quite active up to 11:30. It was all confined to May. About noon the market became firmer and before the close $\frac{1}{4}$ of the decline had been regained. This market, which followed closely on the decline, did not keep up on the up turn. At Chicago there were reported to be a good many buyers around \$80 for May and efforts made by parties to buy them at that price. Those unable to be informed that that price had not been reached. In the face of this the board quotations were at \$80 less than eight times during the morning.

Commodities Wholesalers. A regular meeting of the Father Mathew society was held last night. The church delivered an address on the evils of intemperance. A large number of members of the society were present at the meeting. A committee consisting of Messrs. Hynes, Laux and Judd, was appointed to a committee of the Catholic church to be present on Jan. 30. A committee of ladies were appointed to prepare a program for the next meeting. On Wednesday evening a meeting will be held to organize the Father Mathew society, which will consist of boys under 16 years of age.

Commodities Wholesalers. A Duluth firm of gentleman's furnishing goods is making arrangements to go into the wholesale business.

Negotiations are now pending between Duluth, capitalist, and prominent Eastern business men for the establishment in this city of a wholesale dry goods house. Everything looks favorable for such a concern opening business in Duluth within the next six months.

CITY BRIEFS.

Chicago Gossip.

The following commodities are over the private wires of W. W. Bill, successor to Pressy, Wheeler & Lewis.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Wheat: The market was active, but irregular. The open market was higher than the spot, but met good selling from prominent operators, scalpers being the principal purchasers. The market broke to $0 on large lots in consequence of the weakness of flour. The later reaction was started by news of very small stocks at Odessa, and was continued by the cover of the market when the market opened to $0. It is now improbable that tomorrow's market may be somewhat higher, in which event we would advise short sales.

SPANNED A YOUNG LOVER.

A Funny Family Affair Takes Place Out in Helena.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 22.—Following the recent one hundredth anniversary of the world-famous horse-whipping case, another episode of the same sort occurred yesterday evening, the wielder of the lash in this case being Mrs. Mary Mc-Millan and the victim young Mr. Crowell.
The latter is only about 15 years old and has been spanking the 15 year-old daughter of Mrs. McMillan for some time. Friday the girl left home and after an absence sent the mother, who was unable to find her, sent for Crowell. On his appearance at the Mc-Millan residence he was invited into the parlor. The door was then locked by Miss McMillan and she proceeded to give Crowell a sound whipping.

She then left, leaving Crowell locked up, and telling him he would not be allowed to leave until he had spanked her home. Today officers found the girl, who had been staying with a friend fearing her mother's wrath. She was told she must go home and Crowell will meet her at home.

Other Cases Before Judges
Stearns and Ensign Today.

The examination of Simmons lasted until late yesterday. Jack Hurley, a tough-looking citizen, testified briefly about troubles between Cook and Simmons. Bob Williams, a saloonkeeper, with a voice like a disabled foghorn, told the jury what he knew. Mrs. Clara Simmons, a sister-in-law of the defendant, told the story of her experience with Cook when he made improper advances to her, and how Cook was fired from his boardingschool in consequence.
The prosecution had shown that she had guilty of illicit intercourse. Barney Keegan testified briefly to Simmons' character. The defense rested.

Miss Jessie Stowbridge failed to testify before I. M. Olson as interpreter, but the court ruled her out. County Attorney Sherwood closed his summing up of the case, which he had been saving for the defense. The defense had not yet been called, and the trial was postponed to the next day.

MISS MARY COOK, now a widow and key, where her mother says she proposes to keep her for some time.

MINERS AND MINE LABORERS.

To Ask for Higher Wages, Relating to an Imminent Strike May 1.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 22.—An important convention of the National Progressive Union of Miners and Mine Laborers opened here today, with John McBride as president. The union has already made good progress to date, and a great deal was accomplished. The road is now open from Sacramento to Towles,
and an East-bound train will leave Sacramento at midnight. The road is also open from Towles to Truckee, about five miles east from Towles, to the mine at Cassier, where some sheds were burned last summer and have not been rebuilt. This section of a mile and a half has not been worked on at all. There are about 1000 miners here, and a mile and a half respectively.

It is many years since the far Northwest has seen anything like the present state of affairs. The miners are making arrangements. Eastern Oregon is now about to strike, and it is to be expected without a sacrifice of the essential features of either organization. The miners are already making arrangements to go out for a period of five months if necessary, in order to secure the increase of wages.

NO POMP OR CEREMONY.

The miners' strike is to be simple.

LOWSON, Jan. 22.—No pomp or ceremony marked the funeral of the late Duke of Aosta today. In accordance with his express wish, the ceremony was simple, and even the most noted miners were being interred with the mourners, King Hubert, the Queen and their son, the wife and children of General Frank C. Crisp, and a few intimate friends. The miners were not embalmed, and after the plain religious service the casket was deposited in the family tomb at Superior.

citizen. He promised to use his earliest but will be sentenced with the rest of the prisoners.

his wife, came up. It was an action brought for damages resulting from personal injuries.

consin, was returned to Joliet prison today for a third term. The peculiar

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

The Course of Prices in a Dull Market on Duluth's Board.

Gossip of the Boards; Daily Movement; Prices on Stock.

There was a much firmer feeling in wheat circles today and prices ruled 24 to 25% higher than yesterday. Wheat is still dull and quiet all the season, with only a few buyers and exporters. The receipts at all points were lighter. Sellers were much sorer and generally very firm in their demands. The close was firm but quiet.

Cash No. 1 hard did not sell; it closed at 73 1/2. No. 1 northern closed 1/2 up at 76 1/2, and No. 2 northern closed at 73. January No. 2 hard closed at 73 1/2. No. 1 northern at 70 1/2. May opened 1/2 up at 83 1/2, sold at 83 1/2, dropped off 1/2, recovered and closed at 83 1/2. May No. 1 northern closed at 80 1/2.

The Day's Movement.

Cars on track here: Wheat, 8, corn 25. There were no receipts or shipments. Inspection: Wheat, 6 cars No. 1 hard; No. 1 northern, 1 car; No. 2 northern, 1 car; corn, 23. Minnesota cars on track 116, against 140 yesterday and 181 a week ago. Receipts there: 67,280 bushels. Shipments: Wheat, 16,820 bushels; corn, 12,220 bushels. Chicago cars on track: Wheat 41, corn 133, oats 33, rice 3, barley 20.

Chicago Gossip.

The following dispatches are over the private wire of W. W. Bill, successor to Pressy, Wheeler & Lewis:

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Wheat. Market quiet and firm. There seemed no adequate cause for the sharp, except the buying of tardy shorts who failed to get ashore on yesterday's break. There was some buying on a telegram from California that the hay men were inuring crops, but this was considered a joke by intelligent operators who understood that this is always the way seasons begin with the arrival of crops would be harvested. There were stories on the floor about the small stocks of wheat in southern Russia. The close was strong, and the market expects of a higher open tomorrow, in which event we believe short sales will pay.

Corn: Dull, but firm. Estimated small receipts for tomorrow.

Provisions: Fairly active, firm and high. The short armour is a large holder and is bullish not only started short to cover, but induced long purchases by operators inclined to "tail out." The long port was held by commission houses, who were supposed to belong for New York and foreign account.

New York Stocks.

A NEW FEATURE.

The Laborites Endorse a Candidate: What May Result.

A laboriously new phase to the political question has developed during the past twenty-four hours. The struggle for the mayoralty is likely to take place in the convention, and not in the polls, that is, taking for granted that the opposition candidate, whoever he may be, is sure of election. A candidacy on the part of H. W. Pearson was first announced yesterday, and on this account the Labor forces are active last night in missing support. Mr. Pearson evidently has a vast number of friends in Duluth, this fact is plainly evidenced by the large number of delegations in secret session assembled, endorsed A. W. Bradley, the lumberman, for mayor. And through this, it is said, is taking for granted his name yesterday and today. He is a candidate without political debt to pay or promises to carry out, and is especially popular among the right wing of the labor organizations, a secret session assembled, endorsed A. W. Bradley, the lumberman, for mayor. And through this, it is said, is taking for granted his name yesterday and today. The interior of the Iron Bay works is assuming the appearance of a vast workshop. The machinery which is arriving daily from Marquette, is being rapidly installed in its proper place, the offices of the company, which are large, are being vacated, and the foundry and engine room are making preparations to commence casting the first of next week. The engines which will start the propeller, the machinery, are all the same, and make the largest of which is the Corliss pattern, and is given the name of the Iron Bay Corliss.

This is the narrowest part of the battle down to a struggle in the iron works, but two other factors are in play.

While Mr. Bradley has received the labor endorsement, and while a petition in his favor is now in circulation, he is not the only one who has the full support of the labor force.

Mr. Bradley, the bookkeeper for the Iron Bay company, is expected from Marquette today.

It is rumored that a prominent young member of the labor force will support the candidate of the lumbermen.

Geo. W. Lewis, late timekeeper at the Car works, left today for Utah where he will take a position in the civil engineering department of the Union Pacific.

Michael Lacy, one of Paddy McDonald's workmen, was struck on the head by a piece of frozen earth yesterday afternoon and received a severe blow.

Real estate men report a quiet realty market.

John Peterson, the tailor who slipped and badly sprained his ankle several weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to again be found at his place of business.

A workman by the name of Campbell was overcome by gas at the Car works yesterday, and received the services of a physician.

Charles J. Schwable arrived from Huntington, W. Va., last evening to work in the paint shop at the Car works.

He is an expert car painter and was sent for by W. B. Kingley, foreman of the paint shop.

The members of the Car works have not been fully organized, a good number of them are not yet organized, and the number of wheels has not been equal to the demand.

This has delayed the work somewhat and necessitated the laying of a number of the carpenters this week.

Two hundred extra wheels have been ordered from Chicago but they have not yet arrived.
